BOSTON HEIGHTS, Ohio, Feb. 24, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Arhaus (NASDAQ: ARHS), a leader in artisan-crafted and responsibly sourced home furnishings, debuts 'Uphold', the third volume of its editorial series Storied, a compilation of imagery and storytelling developed to commemorate the brand's artisan partnerships built over the years. Following the first two volumes of Storied – Rooted and Bellissimo Segreto – 'Uphold' is an intimate tribute to the time-honored techniques of Arhaus' artisans in North Carolina who share the brand's vision of creating beautiful, heirloom-quality pieces that can be used and loved for generations. In addition to a printed book available exclusively in Arhaus showrooms nationwide, the 'Uphold' story and the upholstery collections featured within can now be explored digitally at Arhaus.com/Uphold.

"When my father and I founded Arhaus nearly 40 years ago, our inspiration for the company was born from our travels leading us to discover incredible craftsmanship and wanting to share it with our community," said John Reed, Arhaus Co-Founder and CEO. "'Uphold' shares the heritage behind our upholstery collections made in North Carolina and the steady, exacting craft our talented artisan partners put into every piece using the finest materials sourced globally. We create some of the best upholstery in the world, and it wouldn't be possible without the passion, artistry and unwavering commitment to quality that is captured so beautifully in this Storied volume."

In an excerpt from the Arhaus blog Unabridged, John Reed shares how Arhaus Upholstery began:

"Arhaus' legacy with handcrafted upholstery began not long after we opened our doors in 1986. Our business was growing, as was the need to offer exceptional upholstered seating to our customers. And I knew exactly what I wanted our assortment to be. Silhouettes and fabrics that felt current but timeless. Frames made from sustainably sourced wood. Heirloom quality that would last.

When I couldn't find what I wanted, I set out to build it myself. I drove through the foothills of North Carolina, the epicenter of American upholstery making, and met with workshops of all sizes. Eventually, I found artisans who shared my vision—many of whom we still work with today.

From that initial journey almost forty years ago, Arhaus Upholstery has grown to include more than 175 collections, hundreds of silhouettes, and the most exquisite materials sourced around the world."

In 2022, Arhaus opened an upholstery facility spanning nearly 500,000 square feet in Conover, NC, just an hour away from Charlotte, becoming the newest state-of-the-art facility in the North Carolina region. With its unparalleled distribution and manufacturing capabilities, the Conover facility employs more than 300 people to create and ship Arhaus Upholstery collections.

The upholstery collections featured in 'Uphold' are available to order at Arhaus.com and Arhaus showrooms nationwide. With endless customization options, Arhaus' team of interior designers are available in-store or virtually to help clients personalize their unique pieces with selections such as fabrics, leathers, configuration, seat depth, cushion type, arm style, motion functionality, and more.
